

The Manipal Advanced Research Group, Manipal University is engaged in research in the field of theoretical atomic physics as well as R&D in the nuclear sciences including heavy ion physics/ physics of the thorium nuclear fuel cycle - an important future energy source for India.

DOCTORAL POSITION

Aspiring doctoral candidates must have a strong interest in theory and a good background in computational physics, quantum mechanics and nuclear and/or atomic physics at the graduate level.

Applications must be accompanied by a biodata, three references and mention any publications and conferences attended.

Deputy Director - HR

MANIPAL
UNIVERSITY

Manipal - 576104, Karnataka

E-mail: jobs@manipal.edu